

I am in favor of continuing the no call list. I would never buy something from someone calling me on the phone to try to talk me into something I do not need. I consider it an invasion of my privacy to get these telemarketing calls. I pay for this phone service for my personal use, not for someone's marketing tool.